MORE THAN POLITICS.

A newspaper or individual who does not regard honest and economical administration of State and county governments as an important factor in the promotion of the prosperity of a commonwealth, knows but little of the subject which he essayed to discuss. Nevada has suffered, and is now suffering more from the effect of maladministration of her government affairs than from any other cause except the demonetization of silver. It is a greater obstruction to the progress of the State, and to the efforts of those who are endeavoring to promote the development of her abundant resources, by making them known and encouraging the trend of immigration and capital in this direction, than could be effected by the breaking of a dozen siliarian newspapers published in our midst.

Who imagines for an instant that the appellation of "rotten borough," which in the east is almost a synonym for the name of our State, has not been an element of obstruction to her progress? Who believes that a newspaper or individual who is honestly endeavoring to remove the cause for such vacuous title, is not engaged in a righteous work, and one which will insure to the material interest and benefit of the State? With a representation in the United States Senate equal, numerically, to that of the largest State in the Union, who is so stupid and blind that he cannot realize that with such voting power in that body, Nevada, if her interests had been properly attended to, instead of being absolutely ignored, might have been a beneficiary in the matter of internal improvements appropriation by the general government, to an extent at least sufficient to have given her a good start towards a general irrigation system?

It is not a matter of politics, but one of self interest and protection, to protest against such unjust discrimination towards our State in fares and freights as places us at great disadvantage in the encouragement of immigration and capital, to people our areas and develop our resources. We say that it is more than politics—the endeavor to impress the people of Nevada with a realization of the fact that it would be better for them to send representatives to Washington who would attend to their interests, instead of playing into the hands of those who are doing their level best to further impoverish us and retard our progress.

The JOURNAL has received scores of letters from persons looking for places for location and investment. They contain such inquiries as pertain to the advantages offered by Nevada as a place for residence and business. They are generally from persons of small means, but the question of the rate of taxation is seldom if ever omitted. To this a truthful answer necessitates an acknowledgement which is not encouraging to the inquirer or the prospect of his becoming an inhabitant of the State. With her generous endowment of public lands, Nevada ought to have the lowest rate of almost any State in the Union. Instead of that she has nearly the highest. This is directly attributable to the high pressure system upon which our State government has been conducted. For the last few years it has been in the hands of a damnable set of plunderers as ever afflicted a State with their presence. At the last session of the legislature salaries were lavishly attached to unsalaried offices, the people's money was voted away in a reckless manner which was absolutely shameful, and our State institutions are now overflowing with salaried officials who have nothing to do except to help keep up the fonses of the plunderers for the next campaign.

The JOURNAL while doing its best to encourage and promote the spirit of industry and enterprise manifested by the people of Nevada, will not neglect the gang of obstructionists and political barlots who are doing more to give our State a bad name than the failure of fifty mining and agricultural enterprises would do, and we intend to fight them to the bitter end. The present boom has not increased our confidence in the resources of our State which we have known for years to be practically unlimited. We are none the less gratified, however, to note the enterprise and industry which is fast developing them, and gaining for our long neglected commonwealth the preminence to which her cheap lands, fertile soil and treasure-laden mountains entitle her to. The JOURNAL believes that apart from her silver mines, Nevada possesses requisites in abundance to support all, and enrich many, of a population of twenty times its

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Daily Record of the Doings in the Legal and Judicial World.

Sheriff L. C. Scott of White Pine county arrived in Reno Wednesday evening with Hill Hamilton, a convicted murderer sentenced to imprisonment for life. Deputy John Hayes entertained the convict in the county jail over night. He was taken to the Nevada penitentiary yesterday morning.

There are an even dozen malefactors boarding at Sheriff McInnis' popular hotel. Two of them are Indians held to await investigation by the Grand Jury on the charge of assault with intent to commit murder. The others are held on petty charges.

District Judge Currier was in Dayton yesterday and to-day holding court for Judge C. E. Mack.

The wheels of justice revolved slowly yesterday in Justice Linn's court, as Constable McNeely and Deputy Heford were off dove hunting and therefore unable to supply the Justice with raw material.

James Wallace pleaded guilty to selling liquor to Indians in Justice Linn's court Wednesday and was given the alternative of $60 or 30 days. He chose the latter.

E. L. Williams, Superintendent of Schools of Washoe county, favors the readers of the JOURNAL with the following items regarding local educational matters. Of the twenty schools in this county the following have closed for the summer vacation: Buffalo, taught by Miss Loretta Hickory; Mill Station, Miss Florence Tannabill; Washoe City, Alice Edmonds; Duck Lake, Miss Lillian O. Murphy; Spanish Springs, Miss Isa L. Wright; and Winnemucca, No. 10, Miss Jean Sweetman.

Rager, a new school district, has been formed at the solicitation of Chas. Rager. It is in the northern part of the county and adjoins Buffalo district.

Architectural plans for the new public school building at Wadsworth have been prepared. It will be a handsome and commodious modern structure.

"Artemisia."

This is the title of the pioneer annual edited and published under the supervision of the editorial staff of the Student Record.

It represents the botanical class or family to which our native sage-brush belongs. The book is neatly and tastefully bound and contains nearly two hundred pages. The faculty, regents and many of the students are represented in half tone portraits, most of which are accompanied by short biographical sketches of the originals. The pages are interspersed with interesting literary productions from members of the editorial staff. The illustrations are appropriate, ingenious and finely executed, most of them being the work of Lester A. Merrill, the staff artist of the editorial corps. The book is creditable to its projectors and to the institution to which they are attached.

The only objection to be found with the "Artemisia" is that it was printed in Chicago. The students should try to assist those who assist the University.

Patriotic Little People.

The Women's Relief Corps entertained Miss Urubuk's primary class of forty-six pupils in Masonic hall yesterday afternoon. The children recited a number of patriotic selections and sang several national airs in a delightful manner, making themselves the entertainers rather than the entertained. As the little people were invited to be present on account of their display of patriotism at school, it was decided to present them with a flag.

Commander Blakeslee, who with other members of the G. A. R. were present, made the speech of presentation. Refreshments were then served.

Annual Inspection.

The corps of military cadets of the State University had their annual inspection yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The Secretary of War telegraphed that no inspection officer was available, so President Stubbs appointed Professors Jackson and Brown and former Cadet Major Finlayson to make the inspection. Although the University has been without a commandant this year, the cadet corps was very carefully drilled and the military spirit of the students fostered under the direction of Cadet Major Brustle.

The second pair to enter the bonds were Lorenzo Stenhouse and Virginia Escobar of California. Their vows were uttered in the presence of Frank Federici and B. C. Weir.

Basket Ball.

A team of young ladies from Washoe Valley entered the lists against a Carson club in the fin de siecle game of basket ball. The match took place in Gymnasium hall in the Capital City Wednesday evening. Fate was against the out two girls as the score, 6 to 1, indicates. There were a number of (figurative) kiosks by the Washoe ballists and the life of the referee, Joe Miller, was made temporarily miserable.
